

Mullen It Over

What's New?

Yes! The Library is Open!

You may be wondering whether you can still use the library while your classes are online. Yes, you can!

The libraries have always provided access to online journals, ebooks, and services. Our services have expanded during the pandemic, to better help you with your research and classwork.

Search for articles, ebooks, and digital collections using SearchBox.

Send your reference questions to Email a Librarian or contact any of the subject librarians listed on our web site.

The library is currently only open for study space by reservation, or to pick up a book you requested.

Zoom Question Sessions

If you would like to speak to a library staff person, we are offering Quick Live Help! on Zoom.

Hours: Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm

Need a Quiet Study Space?

Starting Feb 8, reserve your space in the library using the website in the red box below. We are keeping study spaces clean and socially distant for everyone's safety.

Can I Check Out a Book?

Yes, you can! When you find a book you want in SearchBox, there will be a link to request curbside service. If you live over 25 miles away, we will mail it to you.

Updates to library services will continue to be posted on the Guide to Library Services During COVID-19.
