

Mullen It Over

Talkin' Turkey!

Volume 8, Issue 3 • November 2022

Study corners in Mullen Library are heating up as the temperature outside drops which means it is time to talk turkey about serious study tips and tricks. Discover a few learning loopholes below to help carry you into the holiday season!

Study Tips & Tricks

Make a plan: When studying, create a plan and set goals for what you want to get done before assignments are due. This can help to prevent procrastination and make you feel more prepared. Remember to check out the library hours below or on our website so you can fully plan out your next study session!

Use the buddy system: Try to find some friends or classmates with whom you can create a study group. Having others to study with can help keep you accountable and allows you to bounce ideas off of others. The library has plenty of group study spaces on the 1st and 2nd floors where you can talk quietly and collaborate with others.

Ask for help: You should never feel like you have to struggle through difficult material on your own. There are a ton of campus support resources that can guide you through your learning process. In the library you can get help from liaison librarians, ask general research questions at the information desk, and get assistance from the Writing Center, Math Center, or Tutoring Services.

Take breaks and reward yourself: Studying can be mentally and emotionally draining. Taking breaks and rewarding yourself can ensure your brain has the time to absorb everything and make studying more enjoyable. Next time you need a fresh perspective, check out one of the many exhibits going on in the library or peruse the Popular Reading Shelf on the 1st floor for your next leisure read.
